Final statutory consultation with Residents about a Free Bay Scheme for Rosehill Gardens

As notified by us in the early summer, the Council is now undertaking a final Traffic Management Order consultation on the proposed changes to the parking arrangements for Rosehill Gardens. The previous rounds of consultation showed clear opposition to a parking scheme with paid permits so the Council is proposing to introduce a free bay scheme. Bays will be marked where it is safe to park and also where they do not obstruct driveways.

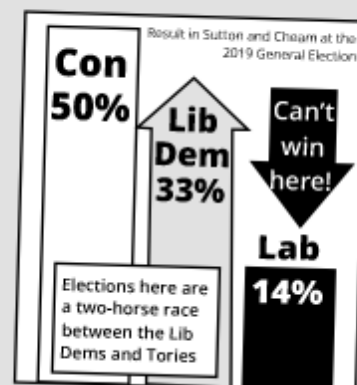

They will be available for anyone to use at any time, but there will be a single yellow line between the bays which will prohibit parking between 9am to 10am to prevent all day parking. Any vehicle may park on the yellow lines outside of this hour.

You should have received a letter from the Council about the consultation, and it is important that you reply. If there are no objections the scheme will be implemented soon after the consultation finishes on 7 October.

Several residents have contacted us to tell us that they now favour a residents' only scheme. If this is your view in spite of the proposed secondary school no longer being built, then you must respond to the consultation to say so. To respond go to <https://tinyurl.com/LCRparking>, download the papers including the maps, and click on the on-line link. For convenience the map is printed overleaf. You will be asked whether or not you support the proposals (or neither) and to give additional comments. You can also respond in writing to: Parking Strategy, Highways and Transport, London Borough of Sutton, 24 Denmark, Road, Carshalton, Surrey, SM5 2JG.

Please do make sure you respond to this important consultation.
